

Update on the Human Rights Case

You may have heard about the Human Rights case involving discrimination against people with disabilities. Experts have prepared a technical report entitled Human Rights Review and Remedy for the Findings of Systemic Discrimination Against Nova Scotians with Disabilities with suggestions on how to stop the discrimination.

This will change how people with disabilities are supported, so their human rights are respected.

If you would like to learn more about the technical report go to this link:
<https://novascotia.ca/human-rights-remedy-dsp-brochure>

What does this mean for me?

- Things will get better for people with disabilities over the next five years. You will be able to make more decisions about:
 - The life you want to live,
 - The community you live in, and;
 - Who gives you the help you need.
- There will be lots of opportunities to learn more, and for you to have a say in these changes.
- In the coming weeks there will be sessions that you can attend to learn more.
- These changes will take time and you will be part of the planning.